

Pauline Lecours Clancy

Pauline defines her artistic message using unique combinations of subject, shape and colour. Her work successfully combines her love of nature, her Northern Ontario background and her gifted artistic talents. She has an uncanny ability to transport the observer into her world where the tough demands of daily life are stated in forthright terms of land, wind and sky. Her mysterious villages, her vital clotheslines and vibrant skies tell tales that demand the observer come back time and again.

The maturity of her message ensures that Pauline is comfortable working in a variety of art media. Her watercolours, acrylics and mixed media are outstandingly crafted works of art. Her interest in houses affords the artist the opportunity to explore the relationships of shape, colour and space.

While Northern Ontario inspires. Pauline's art, her work offers something for everyone. The end result as expressed in her mystic village in nature is always interesting, often startling, and reminds the observer of the duality of humanity. That is where the knowledgeable gallery visitor will best connect with the extraordinary work of Pauline.
