

Susan Dennett

A relative newcomer to the world of watercolour, Susan has pursued her interest in art since 2005, when she joined a weekly watercolour studio with local artist Ann Gruchy. She has always been interested in art, but her job as a middle school teacher in the 1990's and the raising of her young family did not allow her much time to devote to painting. More recently, she has taken some courses in watercolour at St Lawrence and Algonquin Colleges.

Susan is currently supply teaching, and is an active member of the Manotick Art Association, and the North Grenville Artists' Guild.

Artist's Statement:

"My interest is in all things natural, and the beauty of ordinary places, such as roadside wildflowers and grasses. Small details interest me, as well as light and form. I find flowers especially fascinating, and strive to capture their fleeting delicacy on paper, "
