

Michael Fisher

Michael is a professional engineer who was born at Barrow-In-Furness, Lancashire on the 2nd of March 1947. He enjoys his time with family and friends and with his many hobbies which include, fly-fishing, art, rugby and cryptic crossword puzzles. Through these he seeks and finds peace of mind.

He most admires his parents, Jack and Nellie Fisher and is most proud of his daughters Amy and Hazel Fisher and his grandson Kane Renart-Fisher.

His greatest challenge is to draw a perfectly round sun in light yellow, rimmed with an unforgivable black pen in a pink and blue evening setting.....freehand and without cheating.

Michael describes the following recurring thought :

“I always get a good nights sleep, because I dream all day”.
