

John P. Jodoin

John, a relatively new artist, lives in the Ottawa area with his wife and 3 children.

Although John has had a keen interest in Art most of his life, he has only pursued painting in watercolour since 1993. Studying watercolour painting locally with Stuart Beaty and Margo Wild, he developed a love for its immediacy and expressive qualities. He continues to paint in watercolour exclusively to fully explore and apply its qualities in his painting. His travels in Canada have further inspired him to explore watercolour as the medium to express his feelings brought on by Canada's beauty and diverse landscapes.

John is intrigued by how light changes landscape, and how shadows and reflection add beauty to shape and subject. He loves skies, mountains, water and trees; all the elements found in the beautiful Canadian setting.

Member of Art Lending of Ottawa since 1999
